

FACULTEIT ECONOMIE EN BEDRIJFSKUNDE

HOVENIERSBERG 24

B-9000 GENT

Tel. : 32 - (0)9 - 264.34.61

Fax. : 32 - (0)9 - 264.35.92

WORKING PAPER

WHY DO VENTURE CAPITAL COMPANIES SYNDICATE?

Sophie Manigart, Vlerick Leuven Gent Management School and Ghent University

Andy Lockett, CMBOR, University of Nottingham,

Miguel Meuleman, Ghent University

Mike Wright, CMBOR, University of Nottingham

Hans Landström, Institute of Economic Research, Lund University

Hans Bruining, Erasmus University

Philippe Desbrières, Université de Bourgogne

Ulrich Hommel, European Business School

February 2004

2004/226

Corresponding author:

Sophie Manigart, Vlerick Leuven Gent Management School and Ghent University, Kuiperskaai 55E, 9000 Gent, Belgium; (T) (32)92643508; (F) (32)92643577; sophie.manigart@vlerick.be.

We acknowledge financial help from the Faculty of Economics and Business Administration, Ghent University, Barclays Private Equity and Deloitte & Touche, and Deloitte & Touche Germany for part of the research, and support of the Belgian Venturing Association. Valuable comments on a previous version were made by two anonymous referees, by participants of the 2002 Babson-Kauffman Entrepreneurship Research Conference (Boulder, USA) and of the 'What Next for Private Equity and Venture Capital?' Conference (Toronto, Canada, 2002).

D/2004/7012/12